

Two-Week Program for Neurological Rehabilitation

Axon's two-week intensive program for brain injury and neuro rehab is perfect for patients traveling from a different state or country in pursuit of top-quality care.

Utilizing state-of-the-art therapies like hyperbaric oxygen therapy (HBOT), vestibular rehab, cognitive performance, neuromodulation, acupuncture, and neuromuscular re-education, this program is designed to support individuals recovering from concussion, traumatic brain injury (TBI), spinal cord injury (SCI), neurodevelopmental conditions, and neurodegenerative conditions.

Each therapy is carefully selected and tailored to the individual needs of the patient, with the goal of maximizing brain function and overall health.

This two-week program in Denver, Colorado provides patients with the opportunity to receive cutting-edge care in a supportive and healing environment, with a focus on helping individuals achieve their full potential.

